Consider the benefits and limitations of tourism in these areas. Why is it good but why might it also be a bad thing?

A local developer wants to develop along the coast to attract MORE tourists to the area, do you think this should go ahead? Why?

Your task is to prepare for the debate. You will need to carefully consider the points for and against this development which will encourage more tourism. Try to find factual information to back up your arguments, maybe even get a quote or two to help support your views. Remember for a fair debate you need arguments for, against and your conclusion.

YOU CAN EITHER:

Get together with a small group of friends via loom/ video-chat and complete a virtual debate using your prepared arguments.

OR:

Independently, write a newspaper article covering the debate. You'll need to discuss both sides of the argument and include the 'facts' as if you were watching a real debate. Remember to use all the features of a newspaper article and find appropriate pictures to illustrate.
